Science Matters—Deer Lake School

For the second year, top science students at Deer Lake School have attended the UBC Exceptional Science Students' Symposium. In March this year, students toured UBC labs and talked to research scientists about ongoing experiments in micro-fluidics, stem cells, and bacteriology, including salmonella and e-coli. As well, students were able to attend creative guest lectures, make mini-microscopes, and experiment with magnification. It was a great opportunity to mix with UBC staff and respected scientists. As we add grade 12 sciences next year, Deer Lake School continues to pursue excellence in investigating God's world.
